28 Rule II The annuitants as well as the Jahirdar suggest that payment may also be made to the annuitants by M.O. at their cost. This course may be convenient to the annuitants & as it is agreed to, also by the Jaghirdar, it may perhaps be approved

29. In connection with this rule Mr Rama Rao Krishna Rao suggests that payments should be made monthly or at least half yearly instead of once a year only Refce is invited to the opinion of the late Dewan on this point in page 7 of these notes This is a point for order now.

38 The Jahgirdar's view on this change may be asked (Pay to be quarterly or half yearly with interest at 6 p.c. for arrears after 15 days of the end of each quarter or ½ year.

31. Rule IV The Jaghirdar suggests that the rule may be recast so as to include money order acknowledgment This latter cannot be an efficient substitute for the duly executed receipt provided for in the rule. It therefore appears that, for the purpose of safety to all, the rule may stand 60 The M.O. receipt may be accepted Unless we rule that the receipt shall be sent in advance, it would be difficult for Jahgirdar to enforce the proviso otherwise.

32. Rule V The Jaghirdar doubts whether Govt have power to recover arrear of annuity as an arrear of land revenue, without special legislative sanction and suggests that such arrears may be directed to be paid out of any sums due to them from Govt.

*41 No reason to doubt at all. These rules will have the force of law.

33 Sec. 8 gives power to Govt to frame rules to enforce the payment of annuities & orders passed under Sec. 5 This provision seems to include indicate that Govt may recover the annuities in any manner it thinks fit, provided it is not inconsistent with the Regn. Moreover, it may happen that no sum may be due to the Jagirdar from Govt & if ~~the~~ his suggestion ~~of the Jagirdar~~ is to be approved, Govt will be unable to "enforce payment of annuities" as provided in the Regn in an effective manner ~~Subsd traders~~.

13 The limitation may be the usual Period of limitation. Add 'within' after 'on the application of the party' presented within three years of default'

Revised Draft Rules.

(As ordered to be amended by the First Councillor - vide marginal notes in pages 13 to 15 and note on page 17 of the notes in the file).

Under section 8 of Regulation I of 1885 (The Yelandur Jahgir Regulation), the Government of His Highness the Maharaja ~~is~~ are pleased to prescribe the following Rules for the payment of annuities referred ~~to~~ in section 3 thereof and for the purpose of executing orders and enforcing payments referred in section 5.

1. The payments of annuities may be made by the Jahgirdar in such manner and at such time and place, as may be agreed upon in writing between him and the persons entitled to the annuity.

2. In the absence of such an agreement, the amount shall be payable in arrears at the close of each year ending with 30th June, either at the Jahgirdar's Treasury in Yelandur, or at his residence or office in Bangalore, or by means of a postal money order, at the option of the party entitled to the payment as expressed in a written requisition sent at least a fortnight before the date fixed for payment of the annuity. Interest at 6 per cent per annum ~~from the 1st August of each year~~ is chargeable on such arrears of annuity as may remain unpaid for ~~if not paid within~~ one month ~~from~~ after the due date ~~i.e. from the 1st August of each year~~.

3. In special cases, Government may pass an order that the payment due should be made in such instalments as ~~they~~ may be fixed through the District Treasury in Mysore or Bangalore.

4. Every payment shall be supported by a duly executed receipt stating ~~that~~ the period to which it relates or by a postal money order acknowledgment.

5. In case of failure to make the payment at the due date, the Goverhment may on the application of the party, presented within three years of default and after giving notice to the Jahgirdar and hearing his objections if any, recover the sum

from the Jahgirdar under the procedure

prescribed for recovery of arrears of Land

"Paper under disposal"

5 Lady Krishnamurti, widow of Sir P.N. Krishnamurti, Jahgirdar of Yelandur, having addressed a petition in September 1912 requesting Government to arrange, under Section 8 of the Yelandur Jahgir Regulation of 1885, for the payment half-yearly by the Jahgirdar of Yelandur of the annuity payable to her as an annuitant in respect of the Jahgir revenue at the Government Treasury, Bangalore, enquiries were made, at the instance of the First Councillor, of the present Jahgirdar and Lady Krishnamurti, with a view to ascertain the manner in which the annuities have been hitherto paid. The enquiry not having elicited full and definite information, a set of rules was framed by the First Councillor under Section 8 determining the mode of payment of the annuities and for the purpose of executing orders and enforcing payments mentioned in section 5 of the Regulation.

"Draft for approval"

6 2. The draft rules drawn up by the First Councillor were forwarded to all the Jahgir annuitants for an expression of their opinion. The opinions recorded by them have been placed on the file.

7 3. I submit for His Highness's gracious approval the draft rules as finally amended by the First Councillor and concurred in by the Second Councillor.

If this prayer is to be granted a separate order will have to issue directing the Jahgirdar under rule 3 of the rules now under issue to pay the annuity of Rs. 10000 in two equal instalments for the half years ending 30th June and 31st Dec: ~~on the 31st July and 1st January~~ of each year through the District Treasury Bangalore and fixing the date on which all the arrears of annuity due to her up to the dt of the order should be paid through the Treasury. What constitutes "special cases" in rule 3 is not very clear. If the case of Lady Krishnamurthy is deemed one of them, the fixing of the instalments and the particular District Treasury at Bangalore or Mysore, has to be done under that rule.

Now that these rules have been published under Rule 1 it is open to Lala Krishna Murti & Mr Narasingdas Surnaigh & Co. to an arrangement by which the amount payable by Lala Krishna Murti may be paid to them half yearly as the first instalment is collected. There can be no fear that the amount will not be paid as under Rule 2 a default interest will have to be paid in addn to the amount due & the default will render the amounts due to be recovered as an arrear of land Revenue under Rule 5. There does not seem to be any reason to treat this as a spl case under Rule 3 and accede to the prayer. There being sufficient safeguards for punctual payts and the annual instalments being substantial an annual payt will not be any hardship to the Lady.

Sir,

I beg to acknowledge with thanks the receipt of your letter No. J 967/Legis. 11-12 dated 28th September 1912 and in reply thereto I beg to state that to the best of my belief and information the late Jahgirdar Sir, Krishnamurti was making annual payments of the annuities fixed by Government to the parties concerned immediately after the close of the collections season and generally in the month of June or thereabouts, though there does not appear to have been any fixity of time for it.

As regards the method of payment it varied as it suited the convenience and inclianation of the annuitents viz., either in cash in person, or by drafts on the Local Branch of the Bank of Madras or on the treasury at Yelandur.

I may be permitted to add that I am unaware of any exact rule or line of procedure followed by him in respect of these payment.

I beg that my prayer to be paid either yearly or half year as the Government may be pleased to direct, may be gariously complied with by causing my annuity to be paid through the Government Treasury at Bangalore as it highly suits my personal convenience.

An early disposal of this prayer is very earnestly solicited.

I beg to remain

Draft Rules

Under Section 8 of Regulation I of 1885 (the Yelandur Jahgir Regulation), the Government of His Highness the Maharaja is pleased to prescribe the following Rules for the payment of annuities referred in Section 3 thereof and for the purpose of executing orders and enforcing payments referred in Section 5.

1. The payments of annuities may be made by the Jahgirdar in such manner and at such time and place as may be agreed upon between him and the persons entitled to the annuity.

2. In the absence of such an agreement, the amount shall be payable each year ending with 30th June in the month of June either at the Jahgirdar's Treasury in Yelandur, or at his residence or office in Bangalore, at the option of the party entitled to the payment, as expressed in a written requisition sent at least a fortnight before the day of appearance for receiving the money.

S I R,

I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter and thank you for being kind enough to invite my opinion in the matter.

Great inconvenience will be felt by the Subordinate members of the family in the matter of receiving the annuity if they are required to go to Bangalore and more so to Yelandur which is not connected by Railway.

I am of opinion that every facility should be given to the Subordinate members in this matter. At present none of the subordinate members live either at Bangalore or Yelandur. One is at Chitaldrug, another is at Anancovin near Karoor, the third is at Srirangum and the fourth is at Karoor. few years hence some of the members might even go to more distant places and settle down there. It would be highly inconvenient for any one of them to go all the way to Bangalore or to Yelandur.

In view of these circumstances I would like to propose that the Jahagirdar should be required to arrange to send money to the parties concerned by Money Order or in currency notes Registered and Insured.

I would therefore propose to modify Clause 2 by substituting therefor the following:-

" In the absence of such an agreement, the amount shall be payable each year ending with 30th June in the month of June either at the Jahagirdar's Treasury in Yelandur or at his residence or Office in Bangalore to the party entitled to the payment, in person, or sent by means of Postal Money Order or currency notes duly registered and insured at the option of the party entitled to the annuity as expressed in a written requisition sent at least a fortnight before the day on which the payment is due."

Dated 24th May 1913.

Sir,

In obedience to your No. J/3378-84/Legis 11-12-6, Encl. 1. I beg to submit the following as my opinion regarding the draft rules under Section 8 of the Yelandur Jaghir Regulation.

2 I most humbly request that the Government may be graciously pleased to make provision for monthly payments under ordinary circumstances to the comfort of the needy annuitants and to make provision for the advance-payment of one year's annuity, under special circumstances, to meet reasonable and non-recurring charges as during marriages and to deduct the same in the course of three years.

3 Accordingly, I beg to submit the following in the place of the 2nd of the draft rules and to request that it may meet with the approval of the Government of Mysore. "In the absence of such an agreement the amount shall be payable, each year ending with 30th June in the month of June, or every month or bi-monthly or quarterly, or half-yearly, either at the Jaghirdar's treasury in Yelandur or at his residence or office in Bangalore or at any other treasury by means of remittance transfer receipt at the option of the party entitled to the payment, as expressed in a written requisition sent at least a fortnight before the day of appearance for receiving the money."

4 In support of my view of the monthly and bi-monthly payments I beg to submit that such a system had been prevalent -- during my grand-father Jaghirdar Ananda Rao Sahib's time who had been distributing almost equal sums of money in instalments, -- which system can be verified in the report No. 99, dated 13th July 1840, to the officiating Secretary to the Government of -- India, Political Department, Fort William, by Sir Mark Cubbon, the then commissioner of Mysore.

5 My adoptive father, late Mr. Jaya Narasinga Rao and his mother Bagirathi Bai were receiving monthly payments when the Jaghir was under the public management.

Even when the Jaghir was placed under the management of Sir P. N. Krishnamoorthi, I hear my adoptive father was getting monthly payments for some time when that system was changed into one of annual payments by the Jaghirdar himself.

6 Further, to some of the needy annuitants monthly payments will be certainly a boon, under the high prices of to-day.

7 I most humbly request that the Government may be pleased to provide for the advance-payment of one year's annuity under ~~speeail~~ special circumstances to meet reasonable and non-recurring charges as during marriages and to deduct the same in the course of three years.

I beg to submit the above as my opinion and to request that my suggestion may meet with very favourable consideration.

In obedience to the letter of 7-5-13 No. J 3378-84/ Legis 11-12-6 End 1., calling on me to submit ~~their~~ my opinion on the subject of contemplated rules to be passed under section 8 of the Regulation, I beg to submit as follows:-

1. It will tend greatly to the convenience of the annuitants if the payment be made in monthly or at least half-yearly instalments because the annuitants are mostly not in circumstances above want.

2. It is submitted that the appearance of the annuitant at Bangalore or Yelandur entails much hardship and expense to him. The transmission of the amount by postal money order to the ascertained address of the annuitant would involve no inconvenience to the Jaghirdar while it will be a real relief to the recipient. There is no reason in these days of quick post and telegraph why the sum in question could not be made payable at the ordinary address of the claimant.

3. Delays in making payments have too often happened in the past. After all it is a claim by one member of a family upon its chief who by position, wealth and rank is not easily accessible. A prompt resort to coersive measures is not made being inexpedient for the sake of family peace.

It is desirable that the Government will be pleased to allow interest at 9 % per annum to accrue from the date of default.

N O T E

Rule 1 — This may stand

Rules 2 and 3. — 1.The month of payment should be July and the date should be subsequent to the 10th July.The end of June is a busy season marking the close of the collection of revenue.

2.The place of payment is appropriately the Yelandur Treasury.But to meet the convenience of the annuitants,the long-standing practice of sending the annuities to the address of the annuitants by money order at their cost is being strictly observed.To make it payable in other treasuries would lead not only to delay but also to excessive cost from the stand-point of the annuitants themselves. Rule 3 may be omitted in view of these circumstances.

Rule 4. — This may be recast as follows:-

Each payment shall be supported by a duly executed receipt stating the period to which it relates and where the annuity is remitted by money order,the acknowledgment signed by the payee shall be sufficient evidence of the payment.

Rule 5. — This rule is open to the following serious objections:-

(a) Without independent legislation,the annuity due cannot be recovered as arrear of land revenue.

(b) It runs counter to the spirit of the Yelandur Jaghir Regulation as being inconsistent with the dignity of the Jaghirdar and the character of the Jaghir property as laid down in the Regulation itself.

(c) It does not provide for an opportunity to be hear the Jaghirdar before the application for the annuity alleged to be due is granted by Government.

(d) It is unprecedented and unnecessarily drastic.

(e) It affords opportunities to the petty servants and to unscrupulous annuitants to abuse the process for the sake of wounding the prestige and dignity of the Jaghirdar.

(f) It is liable to be viewed in that light, the moment the rule is passed.

(g) No reasonable complaints of delay in payment h have been preferred and hence the necessity for providing against the most improbable contingency of failure to obey the order of Government is not apparent.

As a suitable alternative I venture to propose the following in lieu of Rule 5:-

Rule 5. (a) In case of non-payment of any annuity or portion thereof due to any annuitant, an application in writing may be made by him to the Government asking that the payment may be enforced.

(b) After hearing the Jaghirdar Government may pass such order as they deem fit and may fix a time within which the annuity or portion thereof found due by them, shall be paid or offered by the Jaghirdar to the applicant concerned.

(c) If the order is not obeyed, Government may direct payment of the amount out of any sums either due, or that may become due, to the Jaghirdar from Government and, in the latter case, charge such rate of interest on the sum so paid as may be deemed fit

Sir,

With reference to your letter No.J.296/Legis.II-I2 dated 29th July last inviting my views on the contemplated addition to the proposed rule2, that the annuities should be paid half yearly or quarterly with interest at 6 per cent per annum on arrears of annuity after the expiry of I5 days from the close of the half year or quarter I have the hohour to submit my opinion which is as follows:-

(i). Annuity being " a periodical payment of money amounting to a fixed sum in each year ",it is not in the nature of the thing that it should be split up into two or four part-payments maturing at shorter periods than a year.

(ii). The history of the Yelandur Jaghir annuity from the commencement down to the present moment points to the unmistakable conclusion that it has been and should be an annual payment and not half yearly or quarterly payment.

(iii). That even at the passing of the Regulation the annuity was understood as such follows from the following extract from Sir (then Mr.) P. N. Krishna Murti's letter No.30 dated 9th. February I884 addressed to the Secretary to the Dewan of Mysore:- " The status of the annuitants is now recognised and the annual payments fully ensured, the allowances fixed providing good means for their mainte-maintenance in perpetuity.

(iv). That half yearly or quarterly payments of annuity are not only unprecedented but also opposed to the spirit of the Regulation and cannot therefore be incorporated in the proposed rules.

(v). Annuities being payable " out of the Revenues of the Jaghir of Yelandur " it is neither convenient nor feasible to pay them before the close of the revenue collection.

(vi). That to provide for payment of interest for annuities outstanding after the due date is not necessary as Rule 5 clause c as proposed by me sufficiently safeguards the interests of annuitants in case of default on the part of the Jaghirdar.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,
